Your tasks:

- You will be working on a set of Java applications in a platform-oriented architecture, using Java, Spring Boot, and Kotlin, and you know the caveats that come with it Prometheus, Thanos and Grafana for metrics and alerting
- Code reviews and pairing sessions
- CI/CD pipelines using Jenkins, deployed to Kubernetes clusters hosted in our data centers and in the Cloud
- Kafka and RabbitMQ as message queues, the former is now increasingly used for event-driven systems
- Work with REST APIs

Your skills:

- You consider yourself a solid mid-level Java engineer with 3 or more years of experience
- You care about the craft of software development and strive to build testable, predictable, and simple code
- You want to tackle the engineering challenges that come with building systems at scale (highly available, low latency and high throughput)

- You value transparency, honesty, humility and helping your teammates grow
- You are comfortable working in a professional, distributed team in a highly dynamic and agile development environment
- Knowledge in ruby on rails will be a plus
